

The intent of AUSU Scholarships, Awards, and Bursaries Program is to promote academic achievement and community spirit in the student population, as well as to supply aid to students with financial hardships. The AUSU Computer Bursary provides free, new, basic computers for AU students in need to complete their coursework.

If you also require funding for tuition and personal needs while in school, please review our other bursaries at www.ausu.org/services/scholarships.php. If you are a graduate student, please contact the AU Graduate Students' Association by visiting <http://gsa.athabascau.ca/>.

Eligibility Criteria:

Computer bursaries are available to members who demonstrate financial need. Members must have completed a minimum of 12 AU credits and have a GPA of 2.00 (C grade) over the most recent 12 AU credits. A total of 8 Computer Bursaries will be awarded per fiscal year. Computers will be selected and purchased by the Executive Director and shipped directly to the recipient. The total cost of each computer will not exceed $900 dollars, and AUSU assumes no liability for usage of the computer or computer maintenance once the equipment is received by the member. Members may only receive this award once. Applications are accepted at any time of year. Applicants need not be full-time or admitted to a program, but must be AUSU members at the time of application. If you are currently enrolled in an AU undergraduate course, you are an AUSU member. Membership begins on the start date of your course.

Award Distribution:

Computers will be purchased by AUSU and shipped directly to recipients. Recipients' names are confidential and do not appear in winners' lists.

Application Procedures:

Only completed applications received by the AUSU office will be considered. NOTE: AUSU and Athabasca University are separate and our applications cannot be processed by AU departments. If an application is forwarded by the university, our receipt date will be the date when the application arrived in our office. If any sections are blank, your application will be discarded and you will be asked to resubmit.

About the "Option C" Printout

Why do we ask for this?

We request tax information to determine your income for the year previous to your request for funding and we use standardized documents to ensure all members are assessed equally. The Option C printout from the Canada Revenue Agency includes a brief summary of your income information, and some extra information such as your marital status, whether you have claimed any spousal deductions and whether you filed education benefits. We will not process your application without this form and do not accept a Revenue Canada Notice of Assessment.

What does an Option C look like?

The Option C does not say "option C" anywhere on it, but the document is called an Option C by the CRA (don't ask us why this is!). It should not be confused with the Notice of Assessment or Reassessment that you are sent automatically. To ensure you have the correct form, make sure the top of it looks like this:

 Canada Revenue Agency	Agence du revenu du Canada
Income Tax Return Information-Regular <hr/>
JOHN Q STUDENT 1234 ELM AVE NE SASKATOON A1B 2C3	SK	Social Insurance Number 123 456 789	Tax year 2005
		Date of birth 12DEC 1971	Marital status SEPARATED
		Province of Residence SASK	Date of assessment 09AUG 2006

Is an Option C the same as a Notice of Assessment?

No. A Notice of Assessment is the document that you receive after you file your taxes. It is meant for you to keep as a personal record of your tax assessment. The Option C is intended as a proof of income to be provided to requesting agencies (lenders, etc.) and includes some additional information.

What if I did not file taxes last year?

In Canada, everyone with a Social Insurance Number can file taxes. Failure to file can mean you are not eligible for certain funding opportunities as the tax assessment is the only official proof of income accepted by many organizations. Persons with no income can file, as can persons who are dependant on spousal income or those in Federal penitentiaries. If you did not file taxes for the year in question, you can file a late return. Contact the CRA for details. A return for a person without income only takes minutes to fill out, and it can be filed online or over the phone for free. During the off season, these can be processed very quickly.

Can I just send in my pay stubs or my T4 instead, or, can I send in the notice of assessment for both myself and my spouse?

No. Your earnings statements from work are not sufficient because we cannot determine if you have more than one job or spousal income. Also, for privacy reasons, we cannot request financial documents of persons other than the applicant.

How do I obtain an Option C?

Obtaining an Option C is easy, but you do have to request one and it can take a few days. You can then make a copy and use it for any AUSU bursary application. You have two options:

1. Phone the CRA and ask to have one mailed to you. It will arrive in a week or so. Clarify in your request that you do not want a Notice of Assessment, as these are official replacement documents printed on blue paper and can take a few weeks to be processed and mailed, and they are not what we need.

2. An easier option for many people is to go to the CRA My Account for Individuals web page at: <http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/eservices/tax/individuals/myaccount/menu-e.html>. (Or go to the CRA home page at www.cra-arc.gc.ca and select the My Account link from the top central section). This page will walk you through the steps of obtaining an EPass. It can take a few days to get your EPass password in the mail. Once you have it, you can log in and get your tax info in a printable format immediately. To do so, select "View Returns" and then select the link for the year prior to the current year. Select the "Printer friendly version" link up top before printing. Include a copy of this printout with your application. Do not copy and paste the information into a text file.

What if I'm not Canadian, or living outside of Canada?

Canadians living outside Canada can file Canadian tax returns even if they are not earning an income. If you are a resident of another country, we can accept a return from your home country. Please contact our office for more information so we can do a little research and determine what document will be best. It must be an official document produced by the taxation department of your home country. We cannot accept any forms you have filled out yourself, nor can we accept printouts from tax software or the online tax submission site as this information has not yet been verified or adjusted by the government. If you are not sure you have all of the required documents, please phone our office and ask. We cannot be responsible for misinformation supplied by third parties, and the staff of Athabasca University cannot assist you with this.

Obtaining a Transcript Preview

Why do we ask for this?

To determine if you have completed the required number of credits and maintained a 2.0 GPA over the last 12 credits. Don't worry, this document is kept private and once your eligibility has been verified it is not used in deliberations: AUSU bursaries are based on need, not academic performance. Previously we sent a request to AU for this information, but the transcript preview option allows us to complete your application more quickly and without involving AU.

Where do I get one?

Obtaining this document is quick and easy. Just follow these steps:

1. Go to the AU home page at www.athabascau.ca and log in to MyAU using the button on the upper left of the home page.
2. Scroll down to Student Record (on the left), and select Request Transcripts under Manage Your Student Record.
3. Click add to list to add a transcript to your order (you do not have to complete the order).
4. Just above the "proceed to payment" button there is a link to preview the transcript (shown below).
5. The transcript preview should pop open after a moment in Acrobat reader (follow the on screen instructions if you do not have Acrobat.) Simply save this file to your computer in a location where you can find it, and email it to our office with your forms. We must have the original PDF file for it to be valid.
