

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Athabasca University Students Union Welcomes New Governance and Advocacy Coordinator

Edmonton, Alberta – May 6, 2019

Athabasca University Students Union (AUSU) is pleased to announce our new Governance and Advocacy Coordinator, Duncan Wojtaszek.

Duncan Wojtaszek comes to AUSU with extensive experience in student advocacy and governance that will be a great asset to our organization, including past experience as the Governance and Advocacy Director for the Students' Association of MacEwan University (SAMU), and the Executive Director of the Council of Alberta University Students (CAUS). He has a great deal of knowledge, insight, student government experience, and connections within the post-secondary community across Canada that will help AUSU continue its efforts in advocacy and maintaining a solid governance structure.

On behalf of the AUSU membership, we would like to welcome Duncan to the AUSU team, and we look forward to working with him.

The Athabasca University Students' Union (AUSU) is an independent, student-run society representing the undergraduate students of Athabasca University.

We serve over 35,000 members annually in home-study locations across Canada and internationally. In any given month, our membership is in the order of 26,000 active students.

Our mandate is to provide advocacy, support, and student services to our membership, and to foster the support, promotion, and excellence of distance education at AU and globally.

For more information about AUSU and its programs, please see www.ausu.org, or contact our office at ausu@ausu.org.
