

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Athabasca University Students' Union Accepts Councillor Resignation

Edmonton, Alberta – June 10, 2020

Athabasca University Students' Union (AUSU) has accepted the resignation of Councillor Ian Stewart effective June 2, 2020.

Ian Stewart was elected to AUSU council in the 2020 AUSU General Election, and subsequently joined the AUSU Finance Committee and AUSU Member Engagement and Communications Committee. He was also a member of the AUSU Student Advisory Committee from September 2019 to April 2020.

On behalf of the AUSU membership, we would like to thank Ian for his service and wish him all the best in his future endeavors.

The Athabasca University Students' Union (AUSU) is an independent, student-run society representing the undergraduate students of Athabasca University.

We serve over 38,000 members annually in home-study locations across Canada and internationally. In any given month, our membership is approximately 26,000 active students.

Our mandate is to provide advocacy, support, and student services to our membership, and to foster the support, promotion, and excellence of distance education at AU and globally.

For more information about AUSU and its programs, please see www.ausu.org, or contact our office at ausu@ausu.org.

COUNCIL

Natasha Donahue, President
Stacey Hutching, VP External and Student Affairs
Monique Durette, VP Finance and Administration
Darcie Fleming, Councillor
Kathryn Hadden, Councillor
Regan Johnson, Councillor
Katy Lowe, Councillor
Devon Romaniuk, Councillor
Joshua Ryan, Councillor

STAFF

Jodi Campbell – Executive Director
Donette Kingyens – Communications and Member Services
Coordinator
Duncan Wojtaszek – Governance and Advocacy Coordinator
Karl Low – The Voice, Managing Editor
Jamie Mulder – Administrative Assistant

Issued on behalf of AUSU Council