

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Athabasca University Students' Union Accepts Councillor Resignation

Edmonton, Alberta – January 20, 2021

Athabasca University Students Union (AUSU) regrettfully accepts the resignation of councillor Joshua Ryan from council, effective January 20, 2021.

Joshua Ryan was elected to council in April 2018 and again in April 2020. Josh also sat on the AUSU Finance Committee and the AUSU Member Engagement and Communications Committee since 2018, as well as the ad-hoc Executive Compensation Review committee in 2019. He also joined us on several AUSU podcasts, council retreats, and planning sessions. He was a consistent voice of leadership and wisdom during his time on council.

On behalf of the AUSU membership, we would like to thank Josh for all of his great work on council. We know he is moving on to graduate studies at AU, and we wish him all the best in his future endeavors.

The Athabasca University Students' Union (AUSU) is an independent, student-run society representing the undergraduate students of Athabasca University.

We serve over 38,000 members annually in home-study locations across Canada and internationally. In any given month, our membership is approximately 26,000 active students.

Our mandate is to provide advocacy, support, and student services to our membership, and to foster the support, promotion, and excellence of distance education at AU and globally.

For more information about AUSU and its programs, please see www.ausu.org, or contact our office at ausu@ausu.org.
