

POLICY 2.03

COUNCIL GOVERNANCE

Responsibilities of Executive Officers

POLICY INTENT

To define expectations, duties and responsibilities of executive officers at Athabasca University Students' Union (AUSU).

POLICY

Responsibilities of Executive Officers

- 2.03.01 For council to function as effectively as possible, the main responsibilities must be divided amongst executive officers. The main responsibilities are:
- a. to represent all AUSU members;
  - b. to be informed and knowledgeable about issues related to Athabasca University (AU);
  - c. to collaborate with external organizations to promote AUSU and distance education; and
  - d. to handle administrative issues relevant to the effective operation of AUSU.
- 2.03.02 The executive committee has a broad range of responsibilities. In addition to their individual duties, executive officers must:
- a. be readily available for consultation on AUSU business;
  - b. clearly define and follow through on assigned responsibilities;
  - c. display a constant commitment to consideration and representation of AUSU members;
  - d. demonstrate a thorough understanding of AUSU policies, issues, and events;
  - e. demonstrate commitment to AU, AUSU, and distance education;
  - f. attend all scheduled meetings of the executive committee as well as all scheduled meetings where the officer acts as a representative of AUSU;
  - g. report to council at each regularly scheduled formal council meeting; and
  - h. be signing officers as required.

Officer's Duties

President

- 2.03.03 The president is elected from among the elected councillors. The president's primary role is to coordinate and motivate AUSU's operations. The president accordingly:
- a. is the official person to whom the president of AU addresses all correspondence;
  - b. is responsible for the overall administration of AUSU and coordination of the executive committee;

- c. contributes to the overall guidance and direction to the organization, through the setting of organizational goals and priorities;
- d. sits on the AU board of governors;
- e. signs or authorizes AUSU correspondence (some correspondence may be delegated
- f. to other executives, councillors, or to staff);
- g. chairs council meetings at the discretion of council;
- h. provides leadership to council;
- i. fosters teamwork and cooperation amongst the executive committee and councillors;
- j. ensures there are representatives on AU committees and at relevant functions;
- k. appraises and makes recommendations on the performance of the executive director and
- l. ensures the vice presidents carry out their assigned duties.

Vice-President External and Student Affairs

- 2.03.04 The vice president external and student affairs (VPEX) is elected from among the elected councillors. The vice president external's primary roles are to coordinate external advocacy and internal student engagement. Accordingly, the VPEX:
- a. coordinates external advocacy efforts based on council's external policies and goals;
  - b. sits on any committees or boards deemed necessary by the executive committee;
  - c. chairs the member engagement and communication committee;
  - d. coordinates with AUSU staff to ensure overall external communications reflect AUSU's goals and commitment to distance education;
  - e. ensures representation on external committees and organizations;
  - f. in the absence of the president, assumes the president's functions; and
  - g. perform other duties as assigned by the president or the executive committee.

Vice-President Finance and Administration

- 2.03.05 The vice president finance and administration (VPFA) is elected from among the elected councillors. The vice president finance and administration's primary roles are to coordinate policy review and internal advocacy. Accordingly, the VPFA:
- a. makes a regular financial report to council;
  - b. chairs the finance committee;
  - c. develops and monitors the budget;
  - d. oversees the financial wellbeing of AUSU;
  - e. ensures regular maintenance and updating of AUSU policies;
  - f. ensures the executive director processes accounts in a timely manner, prepares for the annual audit, and authorizes expense claims;
  - g. ensures AUSU maintains all legal and financial documents required to be in compliance with provincial and federal laws and statutes; and
  - h. other duties as assigned by the president or the executive committee.

Additional Executive Councillors

- 2.03.06 Council may create any other executive councillor position that council deems necessary, and in doing so, may delegate a portion of the responsibilities of the other executives to the position.

- 2.03.07 The executive committee must meet regularly. A monthly executive committee report shall be circulated to council at the next regular council meeting.
- 2.03.08 The executive committee is responsible for overseeing the day-to-day operations of AUSU according to policy. Operations of the executive committee must be reported to council at each regular council meeting.
- 2.03.09 The executive committee must review and approve meeting agendas for council; establish the schedule of meetings and provide background information when necessary to allow council to reach a decision.
- 2.03.10 To assist in preparation of such background information packages, the executive committee can establish its own operating procedures and has the authority to call for such information and reports necessary to assist it in its functioning.
- 2.03.11 The executive committee must uphold the integrity and autonomy of AUSU at the same time as promoting relationships with outside institutions and stakeholders.
- 2.03.12 The executive committee is responsible for working with the executive director to ensure that councillors and incoming executives receive adequate orientation to their role.
- 2.03.13 Executive councillors may delegate their specific duties to other members of council or staff with the approval of the executive committee.
- 2.03.14 Executive councillors who resign their positions should provide at least two weeks' notice, make every attempt to complete or delegate projects in progress, and communicate with staff and the executive committee on any pending issues. Resigning executive councillors must also provide a final written report to be included in the next formal council meeting package, and a status report on all ongoing projects and upcoming meetings.
